DETAILED ACTION

Response to Amendment

1. Applicant's remarks received 25 June 2007 have been entered.

Election/Restrictions

2. Claim 1 is directed to an allowable product. Pursuant to the procedures set forth in MPEP § 821.04(B), claims 12-13, directed to the process of making or using an allowable product, previously withdrawn from consideration as a result of a restriction requirement, are hereby rejoined and fully examined for patentability under 37 CFR 1.104.

3. Because all claims previously withdrawn from consideration under 37 CFR 1.142 have been rejoined, the restriction requirement as set forth in the Office action mailed on 11 January 2006 is hereby withdrawn. In view of the withdrawal of the restriction requirement as to the rejoined inventions, applicant(s) are advised that if any claim presented in a continuation or divisional application is anticipated by, or includes all the limitations of, a claim that is allowable in the present application, such claim may be subject to provisional statutory and/or nonstatutory double patenting rejections over the claims of the instant application. Once the restriction requirement is withdrawn, the provisions of 35 U.S.C. 121 are no longer applicable. See In re Ziegler, 443 F.2d 1211, 1215, 170 USPQ 129, 131-32 (CCPA 1971). See also MPEP § 804.01.

Allowable Subject Matter

4. Claims 1-23 are allowed.

Art Unit: 2879

5. The following is an examiner's statement of reasons for allowance: Applicant's submission of certified translations of priority documents is sufficient to overcome the outstanding rejection.

6. Thus, regarding independent claim 1, the prior art of record neither shows or suggests a self-emitting element comprising, in addition to other limitations of the claim, an angle changer that is disposed at a periphery of a light-emitting layer and changes a direction of the light propagating in a protective layer so that the light is incident on the interface at less than a critical angle. Due to their dependency upon independent claim 1, claims 2-7 and 12-13 are also allowable.

7. Regarding independent claim 8, the prior art of record neither shows or suggests a display panel comprising, in addition to other limitations of the claim, a plurality of angle changers, each of the angle changers being disposed at a periphery of each of the light-emitting layers, that change direction of the light propagating in the protective layer so that the light is incident on the interface at less than a critical angle. Due to their dependency upon independent claim 8, claims 9-10 and are also allowable.

8. Regarding independent claim 11, the prior art of record neither shows or suggests a display apparatus comprising, in addition to other limitations of the claim, a plurality of angle changers, each of the angle changers being disposed at a periphery of each of the light-emitting layers, that change direction of the light propagating in the protective layer so that the light is incident on the interface at less than a critical angle.

9. Regarding independent claim 14, the prior art of record neither shows or suggests a self-emitting element comprising, in addition to other limitations of the claim, an angle changer that changes a direction of light output from a light-emitting element to a direction of the emitting side, wherein a refractive index of the output layer is either almost the same as or greater than a refractive index of the light-emitting element. Due to their dependency upon independent claim 14, claims 15-18 are also allowable.

10. Regarding independent claim 19, the prior art of record neither shows or suggests a display panel comprising, in addition to other limitations of the claim, an angle changer that changes a direction of light output from a light-emitting element to a direction of the emitting side, wherein a refractive index of the output layer is either almost the same as or greater than a refractive index of the light-emitting element.

11. Regarding independent claim 20, the prior art of record neither shows or suggests a display apparatus comprising, in addition to other limitations of the claim, an angle changer that changes a direction of light output from a light-emitting element to a direction of the emitting side, wherein a refractive index of the output layer is either almost the same as or greater than a refractive index of the light-emitting element.

12. Regarding independent claim 21, the prior art of record neither shows or suggests a self-emitting element comprising, in addition to other limitations of the claim, an angle changer that is disposed at a periphery of the light-emitting layer and changes a direction of the light propagating in the protective layer so that the light is incident on the interface at less than a critical angle, wherein a refractive index of the protective layer is either almost the same as or greater than a refractive index of the light-emitting layer.

13. Regarding independent claim 22, the prior art of record neither shows or suggests a self-emitting element comprising, in addition to other limitations of the claim, an angle changer that changes a direction of light output from a light-emitting element to a direction of the emitting side, wherein the angle changer is a micro lens, and a refractive index of the output layer is either almost the same as or greater than a refractive index of the light-emitting element.

14. Regarding independent claim 23, the prior art of record neither shows or suggests a self-emitting element comprising, in addition to other limitations of the claim, an angle changer that changes a direction of light output from a light-emitting element to a direction of the emitting side, wherein the angle changer is a micro prism which changes the direction of the light by refraction, and a refractive index of the output layer is either almost the same as or greater than a refractive index of the light-emitting element.

15. The subject angle changers described earlier are provided for improving light extraction efficiency. The design is new and unique to the art.

16. Any comments considered necessary by applicant must be submitted no later than the payment of the issue fee and, to avoid processing delays, should preferably accompany the issue fee. Such submissions should be clearly labeled "Comments on Statement of Reasons for Allowance."
